H. A. Smith of First National Bank, 62, Dies

Had Been Ill Several Days; Services Are Held Today in Galva, Illinois

The First National Bank of Antioch was closed today in tribute to the memory of Harold A. Smith, who was its cashier for 9 years and for whom funeral services are being held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Galva, Ill.

His death Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in his home at 1328 Elmwood avenue, Wilmette, was regarded as a real loss to this village, where he was known as an able banker and a reliable worker in behalf of all projects which he felt would tend toward community betterment.

Although he had been in poor health for several days previously, he had continued with his duties at the bank through Wednesday of last week. Last Thursday evening he lapsed into a coma, from which he never rallied. His death was attributed to cerebral hemorrhage.

He was born Oct. 21, 1881, at Grand Ridge, Ill.

His father, the late Alexander Smith, was an old-time Methodist minister and had spoken in many towns throughout Illinois.

His aged mother, Mrs. Ellen Smith, 95, is still a resident of Keweenaw.

Also surviving are his wife, Faith Reichelt Smith and their daughter, Martha Ann, of Wilmette; two daughters by his first marriage, Mrs. Robert (Rachel) Rummel of Sheboygan, Wis., and Miss Virginia Smith of Chicago; a sister, Mrs. May Read of Keweenaw, and a brother, Lyle, of Dearborn, Mich.

His first wife preceded him in death many years ago.

The body was at the Scott Funeral home in Evanston until Wednesday evening, when it was removed to the Johnson Funeral home in Galva.

Was at Minneapolis Bank

Before coming to Antioch in 1935, he was receiver for the North Shore Trust and Savings bank in Highland Park. For many years previously, he had been associated with the Federal Land bank in Minneapolis, Minn. He began his banking career while still in high school, working part time at the Galva State bank.

Mr. Smith was held in high esteem in banking circles in Chicago and throughout the middle west, as well as locally.

He was an active member of the Antioch Lions club and was influential in bringing into effect many of its past endeavors to promote the welfare of the village and of the lakes region. These included the establishment of motor bus service for Antioch.

During his years in Antioch he had made a host of personal friends, who were deeply shocked to receive word of his passing.

C. K. Anderson, president of the First National bank, stated yesterday:

"Our community has lost a good friend, a loyal supporter of all that was for the betterment of the town. He was always willing to do his part, and we could feel confident that any task he undertook would be well done. He is a man who will really be missed."

Among those attending the services from here are C. K. Anderson and Russell Barnstable, who are pallbearers; Mrs. Vera Renter, Miss Charlene Jorgensen and S. Boyer Nelson.

Henry Graves, 75, of Grass Lake, is Buried at Millburn

Was Retired Employee of Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago

Burial in Millburn cemetery followed services for Henry Graves, 75, of Grass Lake, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Strang Funeral home.

Graves, who had made his home at Grass Lake for the past 10 years, was a retired electrician and a former employee of the Commonwealth Edison company, Chicago.

He is survived by his wife, Minnie; their two daughters, Helen and Dorothy; twin sister, Mrs. Lizzie Theobald, Waukegan; two other sisters, Mrs. Henry Bidinger and Mrs. Emma Selter, also of Waukegan, and two brothers, Merman, Forest Glen, Ill., and Louis, of Brigham, Utah.

Gifts for Yanks Who Gave Being Collected

The Antioch American Legion and auxiliary are commencing active participation in the "Christmas Gifts to Yanks Who Gave" program supported by the national Legion organization and publicized by Eddie Cantor in his radio broadcasts.

The aim of the campaign is to provide a Christmas box for every hospitalized wounded and sick serviceman and woman in the United States. Because of the overseas mailing deadline of Oct. 15, it has been found impossible to get sufficient boxes overseas this year.

Gift boxes may be brought to either the Otto S. Klass store or the Webb Racket store, from which they will be turned over to the Legion. Surveys of government hospitals are being conducted by the Legion state organizations to obtain an approximate idea of the number of boxes to be required.

Dec. 10 has been set as the deadline for receipt of the boxes, in order to provide sufficient time to collect the gift boxes and have them separated into quantities required for each hospital and sent to the particular hospitals to which they are consigned.

News of the Boys in Service

"Please change my address," is the request of L. E. Dibble, AMM 3/c, Shoemaker, Calif., formerly of Banana River, Fla.

"I have missed my paper for the last couple of weeks, as it hasn't been cleared through the P. O. here as yet. So much mail comes in here that it takes some time to straighten out the records.

"I'm really miss it. I always look forward to its arrival and I enjoy reading what is going on at home and also about our Antioch boys and girls in the service.

"This is some change from Florida weather. Nights are very cool and often foggy. The fog usually clears up at 9 or so and the sun warms things up. No mosquitoes here, anyhow. Next month the rains start. I hope to be gone at that time, so I won't have to wade this California mud. When it once starts raining out here everything is flooded."

"I'm still with the American division out here in the south Pacific jungle," comes a greeting from Pfc. C. L. Anderson.

"I've been gaining a little weight, strange to say.

"I'm Pfc. now and received the Good Conduct medal recently for the usual reasons.

"As I said before, this is the wettest spot in this whole area, and rains about 9 days a week. I've finished my first year overseas.

"The Nips are still around, but I haven't come into contact with any as yet."

Capt. Wallace E. McIntyre, formerly at Camp Haan, Calif., is now at Camp Howze, Tex.

T/Sgt. William Gerber, APO 562, New York, says—

"Hello Friends!"

"It is indeed a pleasure to receive the Antioch News, because that is the only newspaper we get over here.

"I have been in France about two months, and cannot say that I like it any too well. We have powdered milk, powdered eggs—everything's powdered. In spite of it, though, I am not losing any weight.

"I thought it strange to see most all the French people wearing wooden shoes.

"Have not yet run across any of the home boys. Sure would like to."

From Pvt. Lyle F. Wohlfel, care of San Francisco, Calif., Fleet post office, come greetings—

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and the American Legion for your thoughtful consideration and kindness in sending me the Antioch News.

"I have been receiving it for the last year and have found many pleasant hours in reading it.

"Your Boys in Service column is, of course, the first thing that I turn to. It is nice to be able to follow your friends through their travels by reading the News."

"I completed my basic and technical training at the San Diego Marine corps base and my combat technical training at Camp Pendleton, Ocean side, Calif.

"I'm now overseas, living on an island in the Pacific. If any of my friends would care to write, I promise to do my best to answer."

A new address has been received for W. T. Griffin, MM2/c, care of New York Fleet post office

Allen D. Hanke Killed in Action on German Front

Tank Gunner Had Been in France and Belgium, on Siegfried Line

Word of the death of Cpl. Allen D. Hanke in action in Germany, Sept. 23, was confirmed in a letter from the war department which was received by his mother, Mrs. Nellie Hanke, 1039 Bishop street Monday.

Mrs. Hanke had been informed of his death by a telegram received last Thursday.

A letter which had been written by Cpl. Hanke on Sept. 17 arrived here Saturday.

Cpl. Hanke, who was 32, was a gunner on a tank, with an armored division. He had been overseas since a year ago last August.

Entering France shortly after D-Day, he traveled through that country and Belgium as the enemy retreated. His last letters told of experiences in Belgium and of the entry into Germany.

He had entered the service June 23, 1941, and was one of the first to be inducted from this locality. He received his basic training at Camp Polk, La., and additional training in California and Pennsylvania before his outfit was transferred to England.

Worked at Garage

Before entering the army, he was employed at the Antioch Ford garage for five years. He was a graduate of Antioch Township High school.

A brother, Pvt. Leslie Hanke, has been convalescing in a hospital from injuries received in action in France. Other survivors are Cpl. Hanke's four sisters, Mrs. Ross Holmes, Chicago; Mrs. Oren Hosteller, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Clifford Gartley, Waukegan, and Miss Betty Jayne Hanke, Antioch.

Memorial Services Sunday

Memorial services will be held in St. Ignatius' church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, with the Rev. A. D. McKay in charge.

American Legion Post No. 748 and the Antioch auxiliary will take part.

On behalf of the post, Commander F. A. Swenson will give a brief address and will introduce Otto S. Klass, Americanism officer, who was personally acquainted with Cpl. Hanke, and will also speak briefly.

"Taps will be sounded and all fitting honors paid."

Vocational Agriculture Teams Place 3rd, 4th

Antioch placed third in the grain judging and fourth in poultry judging at a contest held in Huntley, Ill., Saturday with 11 schools from northeastern Illinois competing.

The Antioch grain judging team made a score of 1,100 out of a possible 1,200, and was only 10 points behind the Sugar Grove team that placed first.

A score of 1,067 was made by the Antioch poultry team. Naperville was first with a score of 1,109.

Members of the grain team are Alan Thain, Francis Wolowic, Robert Hughes, Robert Carlson and Don Lee Holm.

Members of the grain team are Gordon Gebhard, Warren Wells, Clifford Mirock, Robert Kufalk and Harland French.

Hillside Cemetery Ass'n Re-elects All Officers

Mrs. Charles N. Lux was re-elected president of the Hillside Cemetery association at its annual meeting, held Tuesday evening in the Strang Funeral home.

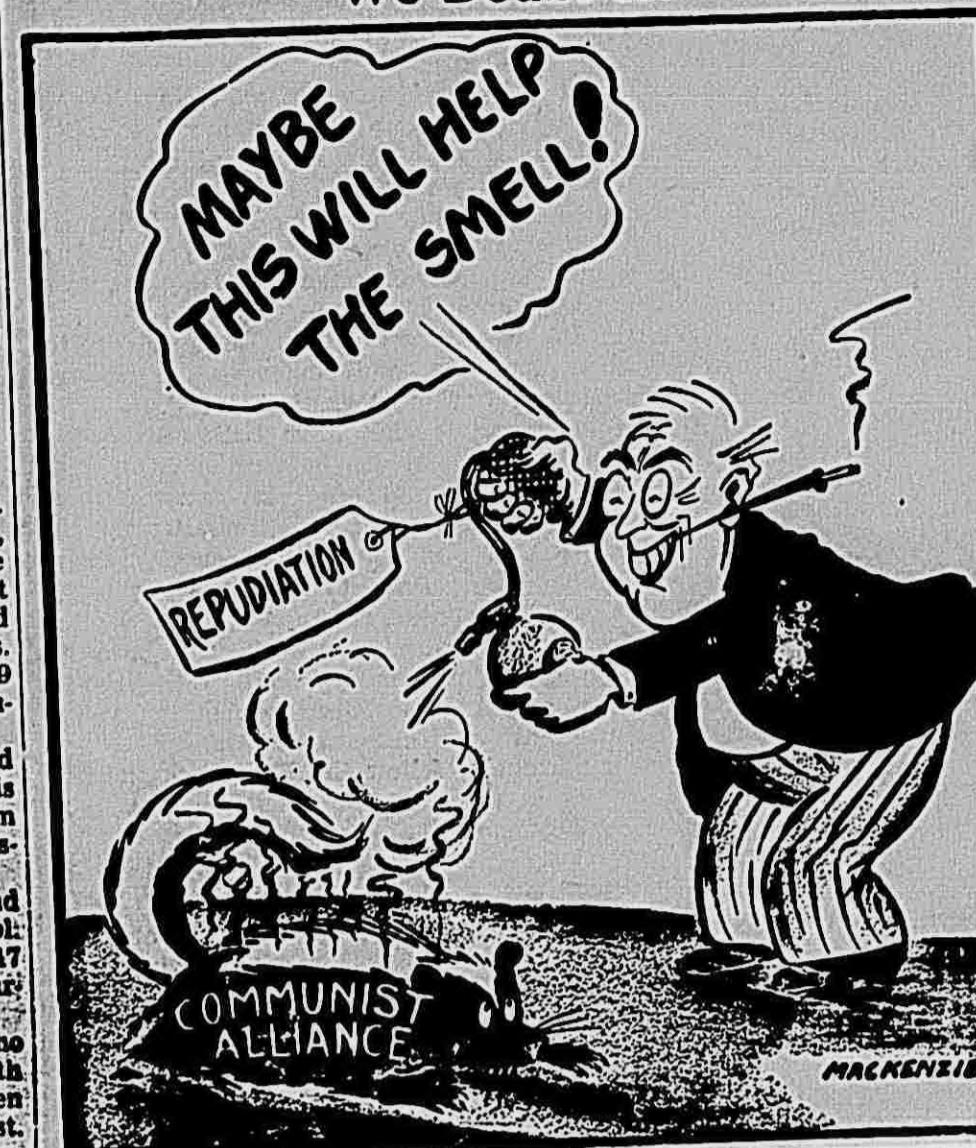

Also re-elected were Miss Alice Emmons, vice-president; Mrs. Drucilla Ferris, secretary, and Dr. R. D. Williams, treasurer.

Trustees are J. Ernest Brook, Lee Strang, Robert Wilton, Ernest Simons and Joseph Labdon.

Children Turn in 600 Bags of Milkweed Floss

Lake county rural schools have already turned over 800 bags of milkweed floss to be used for replacing kapok in life jackets for members of the armed forces, Ray T. Nicholas of Grayslake, county farm advisor, has announced. It is believed by Nicholas that the total volume will be more than twice that amount. The floss is forwarded to a federal warehouse for processing.

Halloween Fete Will Open With Costume Parade

Theater Party Will Climax Annual Celebration Next Tuesday Evening

Children taking part in the costume parade with which Antioch's annual Halloween celebration will open next Tuesday evening, Oct. 31, will assemble at the Grade school at 6 o'clock, it is announced by Principal Richard Whitacre.

The Halloween parade and party are open to pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and grade school children, through the eighth grade.

Those taking part will be grouped according to grades and will be accompanied by their teachers. Clearing the line of march will be the village policemen, assisted by several members of the fire department.

To See Movie Afterward

The parade will end at the theater, where costumes will be judged and prizes for both girls and boys, donated by the Antioch Lions club, will be awarded.

A treat for the children participating is being furnished by the village council.

The children will afterward be guests of Fred B. Swanson for the showing of an Andy Hardy film, "Blonde Trouble."

Homecoming Game Will Be Played Here Tomorrow

Grant Bears Championship Threat to Sequoits Friday Afternoon

The paradoxical situation of a homecoming game that will mean more to the visiting team than to the hosts will be presented when the Grant Community High school "Bull-dogs" meet Antioch Township High school's "Sequoit braves" on the local gridiron for Antioch's homecoming game Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

A victory in this game would make Grant the undisputed champion of the conference.

Antioch has won two conference games to date, with Northbrook and Palatine, and lost two, with Bensenville and Barrington.

The homecoming program will start with a parade this afternoon around 3:20 o'clock.

This evening at 7:30 there is to be a bonfire and pow-wow in the village park, followed with a snake dance through the business section.

The culmination of the homecoming program will be a dance at the high school Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

War Fund Campaign Brings $629 to Date

Antioch township's War Fund campaign had brought in $629 up to Wednesday afternoon, according to a report made by William A. Rosing, chairman of the drive.

Of this, a sizeable portion resulted from a canvass of the business district, under the charge of Arthur Maplethorpe.

Canvasses of the residential and township districts are planned for the near future.

"We still have to raise about $1,371 to complete our quota," Rosing comments.

A number of individuals and organizations have already turned in contributions and others are planning to do so. Checks, money orders or cash donations may be mailed or brought to Chairman Rosing at the Antioch Ford garage.

New High School to Be

Voted on at Richmond

Richmond will have a new high school building, if a bond issue to be voted upon at a special election Oct. 28 is passed by the voters of the Richmond-Burton Community High School district.

A 10-acre site for the proposed building has been donated by Mrs. Harry J. Daveler, and is located within the south limits of the village on the east side of Highway 12.

The bond issue calls for the sum of $105,000 and will call for a tax levy of $1.37%.

Precincts for the voting will be at Richmond and Spring Grove, and will be open from 12 o'clock noon until 7 p.m.

America, Number One Exporter

Many people speak of foreign trade in relation to this country as if it were an academic question. Usually it is spoken of in the future tense, with the implication that heretofore the United States has had but minor interest in world markets. Also, cheap foreign labor is usually thought of as a competitive impossibility, to be avoided at all costs. How abysmally uninformed many of us are on the facts of our own national existence!

The United States, before the war, was the foremost exporting nation of the world. We could not live alone without benefit of foreign trade and maintain our standard of living, even if we wanted to. The products of our factories and farms go to every corner of the globe. In 1938, our twenty best markets abroad for finished manufactures included Great Britain, Argentina, Philippines, Japan, South Africa, Russia, Brazil, Australia, France, Venezuela, Cuba, Mexico, Sweden, Colombia, Belgium, Netherlands, Netherlands West Indies, Germany, British India, and the Netherland Indies. Who says we are provincial?

Moreover, our exports were of an almost limitless variety, ranging from toys to tractors and food. Cheap foreign labor hindered us little. For example, we out-traded Japan in Latin America by thirteen to one. For every dollar of goods Japan sold, we exported thirteen dollars worth to our southern neighbors. In other words, our share of total imports into Latin America before the war was 30.1 per cent while Japan's share was 2.6 per cent.

The question of whether we will trade with the world is little short of silly, just as is the question of whether our mass production and the efficiency of our workers can meet the competition of underpaid producers across the seas. We have done both. Trade barriers at home or abroad will hurt us more than they hurt the other fellow.

Home Town Help to Ex-Servicemen

"Older than God" is the way one recently discharged soldier described how he felt.

That's an understandable statement after the awesome responsibility that has been his. For countless days and nights the fate of the world has been on his shoulders and sighting over his rifle barrel.

Now he and many hundreds like him are returning home, some without legs or arms, others just tired and confused, and all with a fatigue and oldness earned in the jungles and deserts of the world's far places.

To what are they returning?

First of all, they are returning to the love and understanding of their homes. They're coming back to enjoy the clean sheets and good meals of which they've been dreaming. Most important, they're returning to resume a dozen new responsibilities which give meaning to all they've endured.

They want to be good citizens, good husbands, good sons. They want to take up their regular lives where they left them, to shrug off the tiredness of battle and win the victories of peace.

They need help in doing this. Not just financial assistance, but also a "Welcome Home" feeling from more than just the immediate family. They need you and your understanding.

Here in Lake county we have the responsibility for creating that atmosphere, and today individuals and social agencies are working toward that end.

To cite one example, the North Lake County Red Cross chapter has formulated a balanced plan of guidance and assistance for returning servicemen. Under this Red Cross plan, a veteran finds himself given the benefit of expert advice in filing claims for government benefits, finds temporary financial assistance during the adjudication period, finds interpretations of the legislation and agencies set up to serve him, and, above all, finds this coming to him through friends and neighbors familiar with local conditions and opportunities, volunteering their interest and encouragement.

You can personally follow the Red Cross example by participating in plans to help these boys, and by hanging the "Welcome" sign on your heart.

Christmas Seals for Lake County Received

Everybody's postman—the one who comes whistling up the sidewalks in towns and villages, the one who drives along country roads with a "Hiya, there!" and the one who slips mail into rows of boxes in apartment buildings—is symbolized on the 1944 Tuberculosis Christmas seals which have just been received at the Lake County Tuberculosis association's headquarters in the Citizen's bank building in Waukegan.

Spencer Wildey, art editor of the Woman's Home Companion, designed this year's seal. The postman, he says, was a natural for his design, since it was a postal clerk in Copenhagen, Denmark, who first had the idea of building a healthier community through the plan of placing a penny stamp of good cheer on mail at Christmas time. That was 40 years ago and postal employees have played an important part ever since the annual campaign to stamp out tuberculosis. The plan was adopted in this country 38 years ago this Christmas.

Miss Orpha L. White, executive secretary of the local association, expects Lake county to retain the trophy it won last year for reporting the largest seal sale in the state, outside Cook county. After a close race with Winnebago county, the Lake county association, won by a small margin, having sold more than $27,000 worth of seals.

Emigration Losses

Between 1900 and 1910 Europe had lost more than seven million persons by emigration. From 1920 to 1930 the net loss amounted to fewer than three million.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS—THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITYHow this area's vast financial resources aid industrial expansion

Ample capital for industrial growth is available in this area, through the 346 banks of Northern Illinois. Resources of this area's banks total more than 1½ billion dollars. And last year's Chicago bank clearings totaled over 23 billion.

To aid long-range financing, Chicago investment houses afford facilities for marketing securities on a large scale. The Chicago Stock Exchange is an active market for such securities.

Agriculture, too, benefits from the investment-money available in Chicago. Much of the nation's trading in grain is done through the Chicago Board of Trade. Furthermore, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange is a great market for butter, eggs and cheese. It is also an important market for potatoes and onions.

Measure the opportunities in Northern Illinois by these standards! Consider the combination of advantages this region offers to progressive businesses of every type. Here, indeed, is the Land of Opportunity for American enterprise.

FIGHTING LIBERALS ARE NEEDED!

Curtis D. MacDougall

The United States cannot make the mistake that the democratic-minded people of Germany did when they refused to take Adolf Hitler seriously until it was too late.

Perhaps the most important place where fighting liberals are needed is in the Congress to answer the Clare Hoffmanns and John Rankins. Instead of attacking native fascism, the present congressman of the 10th Illinois district defends it. He was a minority of one on the House Campaign Expenditures committee to refuse to sign a contempt citation for Edward Rumely, who served time in Atlanta penitentiary as a German agent, and for Joseph Kamp, mentioned 24 times in John Roy Carlson's "Under Cover," an exposé of American fascists.

PEACE, JOBS, OPPORTUNITY DEPEND ON NOV. 7—DEWEY

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, in a fighting campaign address at St. Louis the night of October 16th, charged that the New Deal's 12-year record of incompetence and inefficiency proved it incapable of governing the nation to which American fighting men will soon be ready to return.

That return will be delayed if Roosevelt is reelected, Governor Dewey said, because the New Deal is afraid of its own inability to find employment for the discharged veteran.

"Is the tired and quarrelsome New Deal all America has to offer?" he asked. "Must we go back to leaf raking and doles? Must our returning heroes go on the same old W. P. A.? Must our farmers go back to detailed control by a host of New Deal agents, with falling prices to boot?

"These questions will all be decided in this election. The freedom and future of our country are at stake. Never in our history was it so important that we have a government which will be respected at home and respected abroad. Never was it so important that we choose a government which can restore our job-making machinery.

"Jobs and opportunity for every American and our chance for a lasting peace—all depend on this election."

Governor Dewey said that three simple tests must be met by the government following the war:

"1. Is it honest?

"2. Are the people who run it trained and competent for their jobs?

"3. Is it a government with faith in the future of America and a wholehearted determination to make our system work?"

Governor Dewey then applied these tests to the New Deal to prove that "it's time for a change."

"For 12 years the New Deal has treated us to constant bickering, quarreling and back-biting by the most spectacular collection of incompetent people who ever held public office," he said. "We must not trust our future to such people as Harry Hopkins, Madam Perkins and Harold Ickes. Certainly America can do better."

"But we can never do better under the New Deal. The scars of its failures and its own quarrels are too deep."

The Governor then reviewed the series of fights between high figures in the Administration from its very inception right on through the days of war.

"What kind of government is this that even a war cannot make it sober down and go to work?" he asked. "Little men rattling around in big jobs. Our country cannot afford the wasteful luxury of incompetent people in high places who spend their time fighting each other."

"Even Mr. Roosevelt publicly confessed on August 21, 1942, that these conflicts within his administration have been a "direct and serious handicap to the prosecution of the war." How costly they have been we will never know. But we do know one thing. Twelve years of this kind of government are too long. Sixteen years of it would be intolerable."

"This administration has lived on conflict. They plan it that way. Listen to the President's executive order No. 9334. It says in part: 'The Secretary of Agriculture and the War Food Administrator . . . shall each have authority to exercise any and all of the powers vested in the other . . .'"

"In other words, Mr. Roosevelt gives two men the same powers and then turns them loose to fight about it. He has been doing that for 12 straight years and it is one of the major reasons the New Deal failed in peacetime and would fail again if it got a chance. We can't afford this kind of planned, noisy chaos and bungling in the days ahead. That's why it's time for a change."

Recalling that President Roosevelt had tried to evade responsibility for the statement by his director of Selective Service that it would be cheaper to keep men in the Army than to find jobs for them, Governor Dewey revealed that this theory had first been put forth in a release issued by Mr. Roosevelt himself embodying a report by his uncle, Frederick A. Delano, Chairman of the National Resources Planning Board.

"It was the report of the conference on post-war readjustment of civilian and military personnel, appointed by the President. This discussed the pros and cons of speedy demobilization. After saying that good reasons exist for desiring a rapid rate of military demobilization, the report goes on to say that: 'Despite . . . compelling reasons for rapid military demobilization, the prospects of economic and industrial dislocation at the close of the war are so grave and the social consequences are so far-reaching that a policy of orderly, gradual, and, if necessary, delayed military demobilization has been strongly advocated. The following reasons,' it goes on to say, 'have been advanced. Rapid demobilization might throw into the labor market large numbers of men just at the time when the industries might be least able to absorb them. It might create unemployment and depression. Those in the services,' this report continues, 'will constitute the only large group of persons over whom the nation could, in the event of an economic crisis, exercise any degree of direct control. . . . Then it says: 'The economic and social costs of retaining men in the services would be less than those involved in dealing with an unemployable depression through civilian relief.'

"These questions will all be decided in this election. The freedom and future of our country are at stake. Never in our history was it so important that we have a government which will be respected at home and respected abroad. Never was it so important that we choose a government which can restore our job-making machinery.

He thinks that eventually such views may be thrown upon the screen in natural colors.

Make America Safe with DEWEY

On the eve of his election for a third term, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who now asks for a FOURTH term said to the fathers and mothers of this country:

"I have said it before and I say it again, and again, and again, your sons will not be sent to fight in foreign lands."

It was not long after that Mr. Roosevelt boasted that we had armed forces in most every country on the globe. It was another of his many broken promises; one that must be paid for by the lives and crippled bodies of hundreds of thousands of America's finest young manhood.

Dewey Promises Will Be Kept

Thomas E. Dewey is a man of his word. He says what he means and means what he says. His political life has been one of unbrokeen promises and pledges. In a speech at St. Louis, Mo., on Oct. 15, he pledged the Republican administration, if it wins on Nov. 7, to the following objectives:

"An administration devoted to public service instead of public bickering.

"An administration working in harmony with Congress.

"An administration in which the cabinet is restored as a responsible instrument of government.

"An administration in which you will not have to support three men to do one man's job.

"An administration which will root out waste and bring order out of chaos.

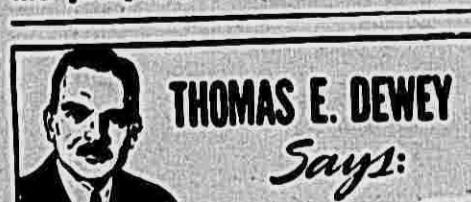

"An administration which will give the people of this country value received for the taxes they pay.

A staggering government debt of over Three Hundred Billion Dollars; a tired, wrangling army of administrative officers at Washington, emphasize the fact that it is time for a change.

SEQUOITS DOWN NORTHBROOK,

1943 CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

The Sequoits won their second straight football game from Northbrook, last year's conference champions, Friday, 14 to 7. Northbrook started the scoring after four minutes had been played by completing a 30-yard pass into the end zone.

Bob Craft scored from the one-foot line after Antioch had brought the ball from their own forty-yard line.

Shortly after the half began, Jones intercepted a pass and ran unopposed for Antioch's second touchdown. The remainder of the game was a see-saw battle, with neither team threatening.

Trieger scored both extra points.

Commander F. A. Swenson, Adjutant L. C. Heath and Mrs. Heath, and District Vice Commander John L. Horan and Mrs. Horan, attended the department Legion conference at the Sherman hotel, Chicago, last Saturday.

As more and more wounded men are being returned from the world's fighting fronts to the Army General hospitals in this country, there is a rapidly growing need for American women to enlist in the Women's Army corps for assignment to duty as medical and surgical technicians, as announced by Lt. Betty Jane Echols of the Evanston recruiting office.

Some of the vacancies currently existing in the hospitals call for women with previous technical experience. However, there have been established training schools at which women with special aptitudes are given short, intensive training courses, thus fitting them for the important work to be done.

General admission qualifications do not differ materially from those imposed for regular WAC enlistment. Women must be between the ages of 20 and 50; they must be in good health; they must have had at least two years of high school education; and a satisfactory aptitude rating must be established at the time of enlistment. Enlistees for any of the medical and surgical technicians' assignments must undertake six weeks of basic WAC training before they are assigned to hospital duties or to advanced schools.

"Here I am, way over here in the southwest Pacific on an island," Pfc. John K. Cribb writes to his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Van Patten.

"Have been here for quite a while. We are living in tents, eating out of mess kits and shaving and bathing in cold water, part of the time.

"The food is very good. Part of it is dehydrated, such as potatoes and eggs; the rest of the stuff comes from cans, but we have had some fresh vegetables lately, such as lettuce, carrots and tomatoes. Today for dinner we had roast beef, potatoes, beans and peaches.

"I am working in a laundry here and we are all very busy. I am working the day shift at present.

"The natives look somewhat like the American negro, but have strange customs, such as washing their hair with lime to tint it red or orange color. They are gradually becoming Europeanized in their dress. The women wear long dresses of bright colors, that go to their ankles. The men usually wear shorts, and both men and women go barefooted. They live in thatched roofed houses and some have shacks out of old wood.

"There are coconuts, oranges, lemons and bananas growing wild here, but not so many where I am at. There is a large flock of goats that the natives own.

"We have a small chapel and I go to church regularly.

"I have met quite a few boys from Wisconsin and Waukegan, but none from Antioch and Lake Villa.

"I have seen Bob Hope and Frances Langford and Jack Benny and Carole Landis, also Jerry Colonna. They put on swell shows and we enjoyed them very much. Some of the pictures that are shown here are the latest ones out, but I saw some of them in camp while I was in the states.

"We just finished having winter here and it is getting warmer now. Winter began July 1."

Enjoying the renewal of many old acquaintanceships after spending 28 months overseas in the southwest Pacific area is Cliff Cunningham, SF 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cunningham.

Cliff arrived home Sept. 25 on a 30 day leave, to which he has since been granted a 7-day extension. He will report for reassignment to duty Oct. 30 at the Davisville, R. I., replacement center for Sea Bees.

A brother, Harvey, SF 1/c, has been on duty for the past 18 months with the Sea Bees in the southwest Pacific.

This collection battalion, located in the wide open spaces of French fields and operating on a 24-hour schedule, is supporting the advancing armies by keeping their equipment in tip-top condition for the liberation of Europe.

Medium automotive and heavy tank and automotive maintenance companies, along with field artillery and tire repair units are combining their efforts and operations.

It receives all damaged equipment evacuated from the fields and road sides, regardless of its condition, and succeeds in saving at least 90 percent.

Resemble Zebra

The asses, natives of North Africa, are unknown as fossils, and at present practically nothing is known of their history. In some respects they resemble the zebra in their basic structure, and in others they resemble more closely the true horses.

Large Turtle

The largest of all non-marine turtles in the United States is the alligator snapper, which frequently weighs more than 100 pounds and can snap a broom handle in two with ease. The alligator snapper lives along the South Atlantic and Gulf coasts and up the Mississippi valley to the latitude of Illinois, while its smaller relative—the common snapping turtle—is widely distributed east of the Rockies. Common snappers live to be about 25 years old; alligator snappers sometimes twice as long.

Mrs. O. L. Hollenbeck is spending some time at Rosecrans with her sister, Mrs. Tom Edwards, who is ill.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."

"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?

"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."

"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

RE-ELECT
U.S. Senator Scott W.
LUCAS
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

Civilized humanity cannot endure the agony of another World War.

PREVENT IT NOW—safeguard America—vote for Scott W. Lucas, the able, experienced Leader who has proved that he will fight for a REAL International Organization to keep bandit peoples from again deluging the earth with the blood of millions of innocent people.

YOU DARE TAKE NO CHANCES! A single isolationist vote in the Senate might block all efforts to establish a lasting peace! Prevent that unthinkable disaster! Go to the polls on November 7 and do YOUR part to re-elect Scott W. Lucas to the United States Senate.

Republicans Urged To Vote for LUCAS

From the Peoria Daily Times:

"Every Illinoisan knows that Senator Scott W. Lucas is all out, 100 percent, unqualifiedly and unwaveringly for world peace."

Because of this the Times expects to reason with its Republican readers, and in the name of their sons who have died, or of those sons for whom they have present desperate fears, the Times expects to ask Republicans this year to put the fate of the world above politics, and vote this fall for Scott W. Lucas."

From the Chicago Daily News (a Republican paper): "As a man, on the issues, on his record of courage and independence, we support Scott W. Lucas."

Post Office Department Asks Co-operation from Public in Halting Thefts

The following notice from the Post Office department has been received by Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk of Antioch—

Complaints of damage to rural mail boxes, as well as theft of mail from such boxes and other boxes designated for the deposit and delivery of mail matter, have been on the increase. It is noted that, to a large extent, children are responsible for these acts, and with the approach of Halloween a still greater increase in complaints of this nature may be expected.

Depredations of this kind can be kept down to a minimum by educating the children and warning them of the consequences of their acts. To this end, it is requested that you contact the principals of the schools in your city and rural vicinity and arrange with them to have the teachers inform their pupils that it is a violation of the postal laws to steal or damage mail boxes and their contents, and that severe penalties are provided for such offenses. Publicity should also be given in your local press if it can be secured without expense to the department, and in publications edited by grammar and high school students.

It is essential that this sort of juvenile delinquency be curtailed, and your assistance is needed. As Halloween is near at hand, attention should be given to this matter promptly in the manner indicated above and in such other ways as may suggest themselves to you.
